

For Immediate Release

American Punch Introduces “Punch Paks” – Sets of Punches and Dies Available for Customer’s Specific Ironworker

Euclid, OH– American Punch Company announces the availability of “Punch Paks,” kits comprised of up to seventeen pairs of round punches and dies in the most common incremental sizes, depending on the customer’s ironworker. Multiple kit sizes are available.

Punch Paks are ideal for ordering a variety of round tooling styles and sizes at a discounted price to have extra tooling on hand. Punch Paks come in a durable utility box with a sample of American Punch’s exclusive Punch Lube used for extending tooling life. Also included in the Punch Pak is a catalog of American Punch’s full line of ironworker tooling including punches and dies, couplings nuts, and shear blades. Two reference magnets for determining typical die clearance and required tonnage for punching mild steel are also included.

Punch Paks are available for immediate, free shipping.

About American Punch Company

The American Punch Company is the leading manufacturer of punches, dies and shear blades used in the structural steel and metal fabricating industries. In addition, American Punch supplies precision tooling to the stamping, roll forming and metalforming industries. Their world-class manufacturing facilities allow American Punch Company to provide customers with the flexibility to produce both on-demand stock tooling and engineered, made-to-order tooling. American Punch Company is ISO-certified, and is a member of all major trade organizations. For more information, visit their website at www.AmericanPunchCo.com.

Punch Paks are available exclusively from American Punch that include pairs of round punches and dies in the most common incremental sizes for most ironworkers at a discounted price and free shipping.