RVX Judges Choice Team Tailgate

SHIPSHEWANA, INDIANA – Turns out KZ RV’s new Venom V-Series V3411TK is the perfect race day hotspot, whether you’re camping family-style or hunkered down for serious infield action. One of the lightest available high-profile 101-inch wide-body luxury toy hauler fifth wheels, V-Series has the attention of tailgaters seeking alternatives to the behemoth motorhomes of yore. “RVs like V-Series are increasingly leading a double life: hauling four-wheelers one weekend and hosting the ultimate NASCAR tailgate the next,” said Aram Koltookian, president. “The layout is ideal, with plenty of get-together space, TVs, a luxury kitchen and flexible sleep options, at a price far below anything motorized. Plus you’ve got your own truck to run to town. Best of all, our true two-year warranty gives you total peace of mind.”

The 11-foot garage transports any toys of any size, (you might need a golf cart to zip around the complex), then morphs into a party hub, with speakers and plush sofas perfect for drinks over race gossip. Stylish but rugged Tuff-Ply floors can take whatever you throw at them, plus finished walls and convenient access to the half-bath and kitchen. Mix and mingle on the ramp-turned-party-patio, or retire indoors to the 102-inch Super Sofa, theater seating with heat and massage features, and 40-inch fireplace. The residential kitchen with three-burner cooktop, full oven, convection microwave, stainless steel sink, walk-in pantry and generous 12-cubic-foot refrigerator is perfect for prepping feasts or finger food, with ample counter space to put out party platters.

Actual race attendance is optional, with three LED TV’s including cable and satellite hookup. If the soiree goes late, there’s sleep space for at least eight; the electric sit-and-sleep garage sofas convert to a queen-over-queen bunk bed. A private sleeping loft accommodates one more, plus the walk-around king master and the crashable sofa. The master suite features a full-length closet with drawers, plus a 5-foot closet slideout. The huge 36-inch shower is big enough for two, with a generous linen closet so you won’t run out of towels. “V-Series adds another layer to the event experience,” said Marlene Snyder, VP of sales and marketing. “People are re-imagining how they use our products, and we’re following their lead.”
