

KZ Connect C261RKK: Affordable Luxury

SHIPSHEWANA, INDIANA – Refined yet adventurous, beautiful inside and out – if this describes you, the affordable C261RKK Connect might be your RV soulmate. This lightweight travel trailer is packed with standard features to make camping sublime, including a residential kitchen with stylish maple cabinetry, a real bathroom and storage galore, along with flush-floor slideouts and wider doorways throughout. Upscale touches includes gorgeous décor, the best entertainment features, and a sleek fiberglass exterior. “Connect is popular with families and couples who want elbow room and high-end looks, at a nice price,” said Aram Koltookian, president. “With our two-year warranty, there’s total peace of mind.”

The rear-kitchen floorplan opens up the interior space, as does the dinette slideout across from the oversized walk-in pantry with coat hooks. The under-mount stainless steel sink with sprayer faucet is just like home, and the three-burner cooktop with glass cover and built-in oven is gourmet-worthy. Or grill up some burgers on the outdoor kitchen featuring cooktop, refrigerator and shelving ... you’ve got options. Storage abounds, with removable 36-inch plastic bins that can be packed in the house and stowed under the dinette seats, plus a 71” exterior flip-down storage rack with 200-pound capacity. The friction-hinged Screenshot entry door prevents slamming, even with kids running in and out

And since you spend half your trip indoors, Connect is big on comfort, with a 70-inch sofa and optional upgrade to theater seating with heat and massage. Campers of all ages stay happy with the multi-media stereo with DVD, Bluetooth and wireless connectivity, plus LED TV, HD TV antenna and USB ports. The walk-around-queen features mirrored full-length his-and-hers closets, and the spa bath offers a vanity with built-in medicine cabinet, flush-foot toilet and radius shower. There’s an outdoor shower as well. “Connect has huge curb appeal, and all the best features to make adventures unforgettable,” said Marlene Snyder, VP of sales & marketing. “It hits the sweet spot in so many ways.”

Sportsmen Classic 181BH: Abandon the Tent

SHIPSHEWANA, INDIANA – A great RV at a great price – KZ’s Sportsmen Classic is loaded with standard features that make your getaway oh so livable. KZ’s most affordable model may be small but it’s got it all: stylish maple cabinetry, power awning, cable hookup & 12V dual USB ports, generous 78-inch ceilings, ample storage, and residential linoleum. And it’s crossover towable, so you can just pick up and go. Classic 181BH sleeps the whole family, including bunkhouse, RV queen and sleeper dinette. “If you’re done with tent camping or ready to downsize, this is the logical next step,” said Aram Koltookian, president. “Classic is a nicely-outfitted coach at an amazing value, which is why it’s been a customer favorite for decades. It’s a comfortable, easy escape.”

Let’s be honest: outdoor adventure feels better when you don’t have to totally rough it. Classic’s kitchen offers generous countertops with a sink large enough to fill pitchers, a two-burner cooktop, microwave and 4-cubic-foot refrigerator, or swap for the popular 7-cubic-foot option. The refreshingly civilized bathroom has a full-size shower and foot-flush toilet – not the combined shower/toilet typical of this price point. Panoramic windows let the sun in, with warm LED interior lighting and a slideout dinette that adds valuable living space. The power awning with LED light strip makes for magical evenings around the campfire. If you’re the more adventurous type, the optional Off-Road Package includes 15-inch mud tires, extra ground clearance and a double entry step.

Classic’s thoughtful construction is a cut above the rest, with tongue & groove plywood decking instead of OSB, and scissor jacks in lieu of flimsy straight jacks. The flip-up entry step with grab handle provides solid footing, and the extra-wide 26-inch entry door features a sturdy friction hinge (think laptop hinge). Best of all, there’s air conditioning! “Classic is still popular because there’s so much bang for your buck,” said Marlene Snyder, VP of sales & marketing. “You can focus on your destination and all your fun plans, because as far as accommodations, it’s no worries – Classic’s got you covered.”
